represent the finest of American youth pictured as they work and as they play. Already as 1956 has settled into being the sounds of national elections are becoming more pronounced and American students are watching with interest the workings of a nation which they will so soon help to direct. These students feel that the educational system of which they are a part will prepare them for professional, social, political and religious leadership of this, the greatest nation of all.

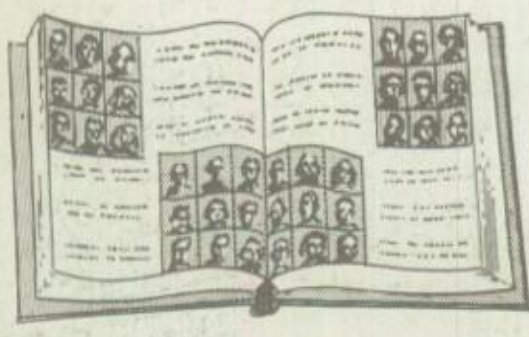

The staff of The Bear Tracks gives you this book as a pictorial reminder of a happy year and the objectives we have hoped to attain:

- Promotion of good scholarship
- Building of worthwhile school activities
- Advancement of clean sportsmanship
- Encouragement in extracurricular organizations

Under well trained, competent and enthusiastic administration.

Dedication

To Mr. Harry West this yearbook is dedicated. For his tireless work and energy he will always be remembered. We, the students, do not realize the amount of effort and planning our beloved principal does for us and the school each year. Therefore, to him we of The Bear Tracks Staff gratefully dedicate this 1956 annual.

It is the American policy that the Board of Education of a city maintains control over its educational system. In Oklahoma City the members of the Board of Education are elected by the people. Thus, the actual control of the schools rests with the voters.

Under the careful guidance of a dedicated superintendent, Dr. J. Chester Swanson, our Board of Education has kept citizens of Oklahoma City informed of the great work that is being done toward securing the best qualified personnel, procuring most up-to-date educational material, building new buildings, repairing and maintaining those already in existence. Our growth as city and schools is rapidly increasing. We at John Marshall are proud indeed, to be one of the finest of a splendid list of good schools.

Principal
HARRY WEST who is never too busy to be a friend to students of John Marshall who respect and admire him.

TEACHING

Miss Frances Peters supervises a class taking tests.

Mrs. Bernice Hibbert helps student Jerry Stuckey with enrollment problem.

Ellis Masonhall is very much "at home" when teaching large classes.

TESTING

Miss Peters is also a very capable teacher of typing.

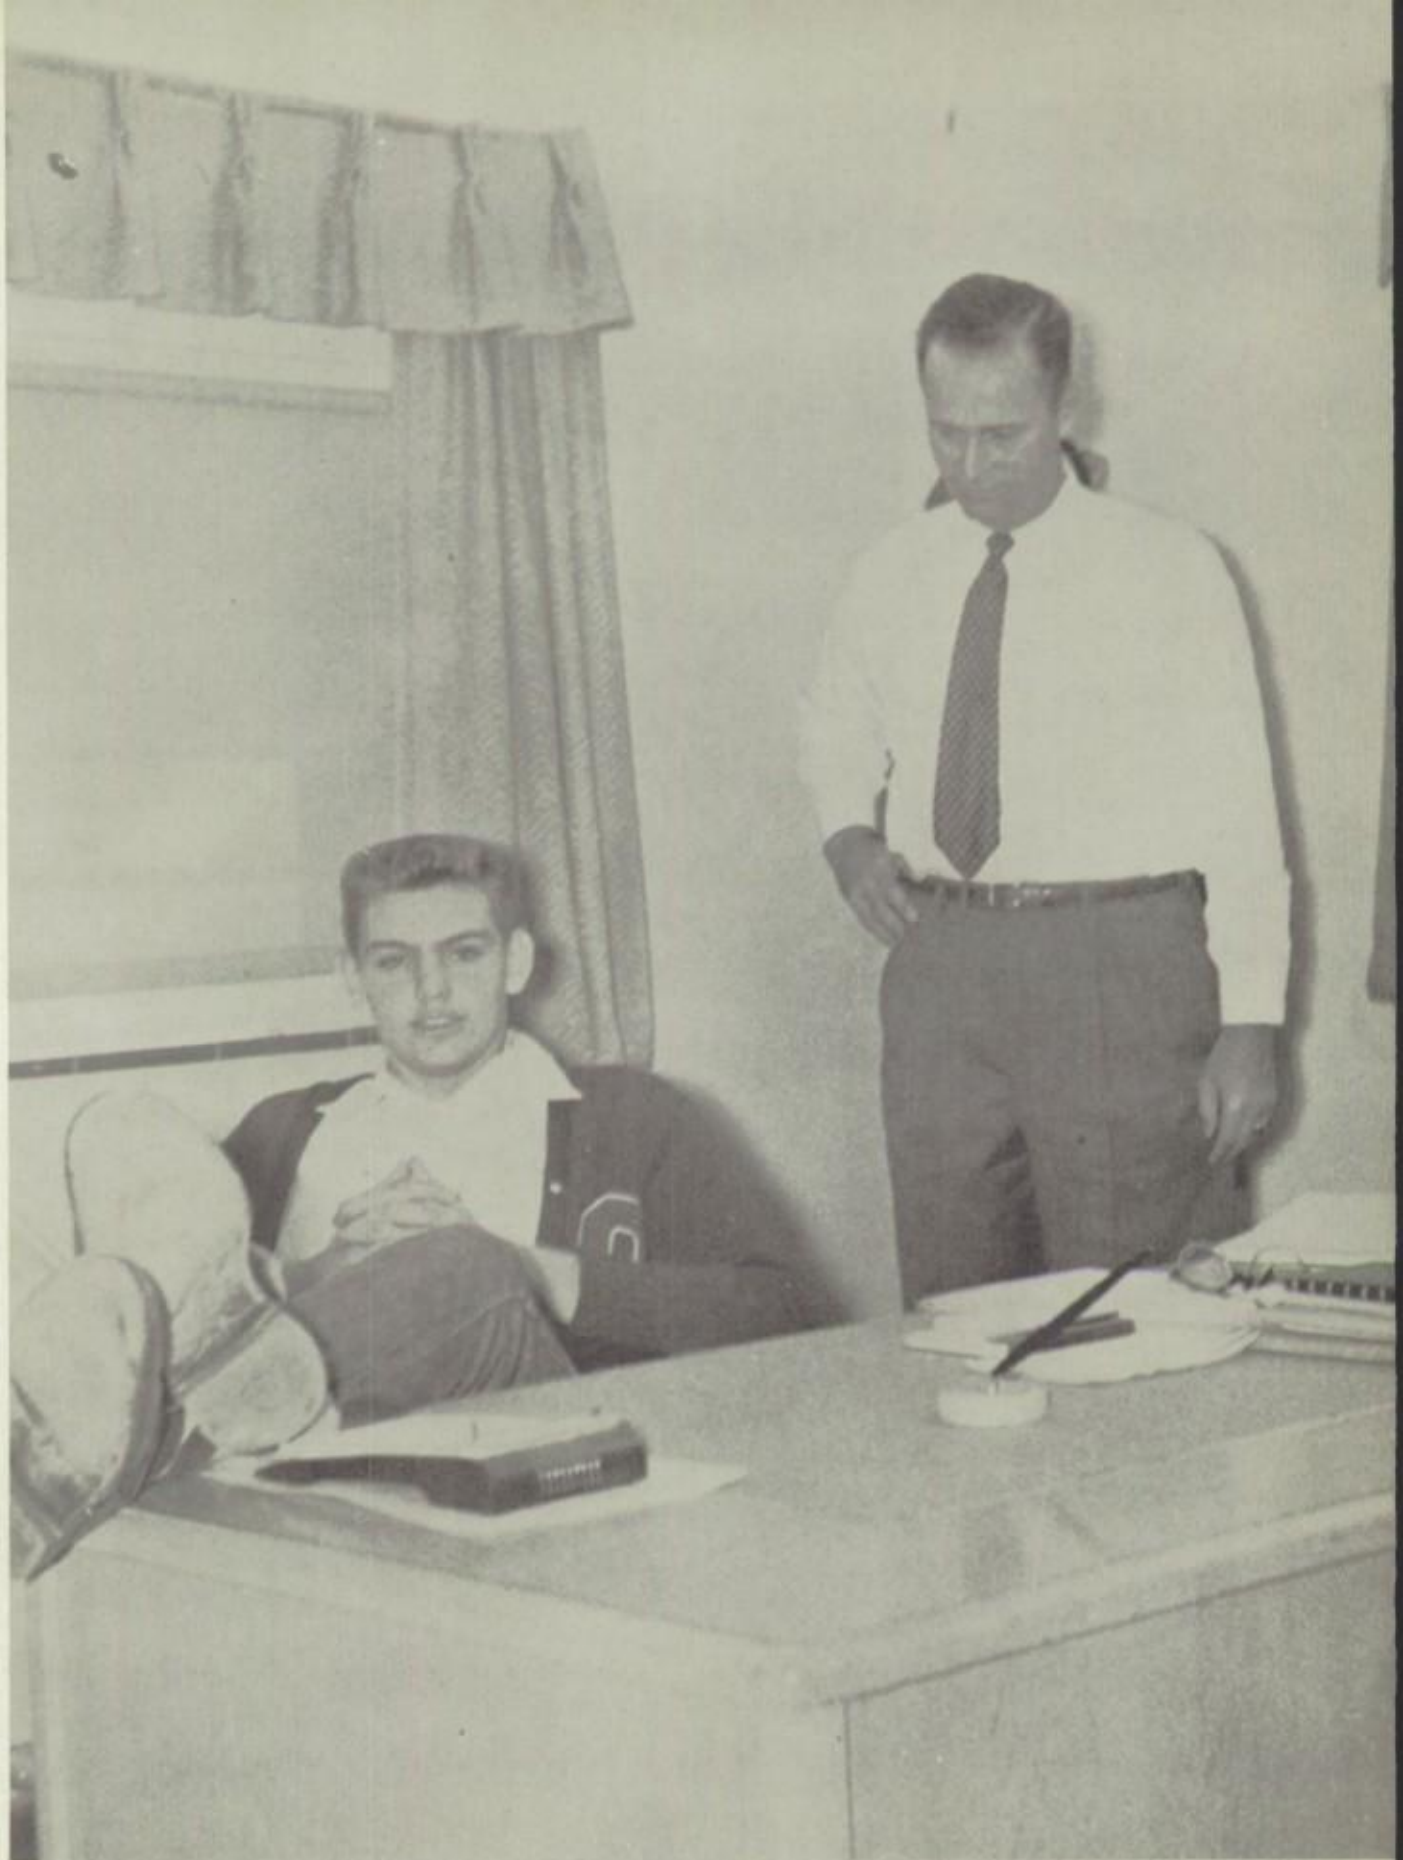

Mrs. Hibbert also proves that English classes CAN be interesting.

Here Mr. Masonhall gives wise assistance to Bob Huckaby.

Faculty

Better Look Behind Thee, Little Man!
(Ronnie Osborne and Mr. Garwin Fleming)

We present a well trained and competent faculty of men and women who offer the best training in their fields. These teachers are warm hearted and friendly to the students who seek their guidance. They have become friends as well as instructors as they give their best toward the education of their pupils, to their fun in social affairs and to their Spiritual endeavors.

Juniors

Maybe this has been just another year but to us Juniors it has a special significance. We look back to the things we have done. It has been a hard job but we enjoyed it and feel that we are now well equipped through service for our coming year as Seniors. We feel that next year's Juniors will profit by the example we have set.

*Jimmy, thank you for accepting me
 the way you
 did. you and your group of kids
 have really made
 this last year
 a big success for me. Best of luck you a real sweet girl.
 Thanks
 Kay Latmor
 (gr 55-56)*

Organizations

John Marshall High School is outstanding nationally for its recognition of the importance of extracurricular activities and organizations. Academic achievement is stressed, certainly, along with the realization that such learning is broadened by association and interpretation through relating organizations.

Student Council

Peggy Moses calls roll, Walter Lambert, John Brooks, Beverly Cain, Barbara Laster, and Elizabeth Gordon pose for photographer.

As John Brooks pounded the gavel and called the meeting to order, thirty or forty students representing their homerooms settled down to the student council business of the day. Besides furthering understanding between faculty and student body, the council participated in all school activities. Sponsorship of the writing of a school alma mater, development of school spirit and friendly relations with other schools, dances, distribution of football slogans, attendance at the Southern Association of Student Councils, operation of the school store, and participation in school elections are examples of the student council work this year.

"He must be a genius" is the general attitude toward a member of the National Honor Society. Actually, he must be more than a "brain." Membership in the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors attainable in John Marshall, and to be eligible one must be outstanding not only in scholarship, but also in leadership, character, and service. Membership is selected from the junior and senior classes. Initiation is in the fall and spring. The National Honor Society presents an award to the outstanding sophomore each year. This year's project is the saying of Grace at the senior high lunch periods.

One of the most impressive events of a John Marshall year is the installation of new Honor Society members.

"Looking for something?" inquires John Brooks of Bob Gray sports editor, and Bob West reporter.

"This is how it's done," says retiring co-editor, Reta Godfrey to new editor Ronnie Adkins, and new assistants Gwyn Lacy, and Emily Ekdol.

"There's my story," said Nancy Hooper to Judy Savage and Judith Brown. Jerry Donsworth, David Brown, and Bobby Dozier find none.

"Here's my new idea," says Beverly Cain to the publicity staff, Marcia McGrew, June Rhodes and Linda Levy.

"We're getting rich," Harry Mason points out to Jerry Nixon. Financial bosses, Danny Gale and Willie Buchanan seem doubtful.

The Quill and Scroll is an international society for outstanding journalists. The John Marshall chapter of this organization received their charter last spring and initiated the first members this year. Those shown in the picture are: Karel Corbett, Sharon Buchanan, Beverly Cain, Dixie Cox, Margie Scott, Dwayne Harlan, Bob Gray, John Brooks, Jerry Nixon, and Danny Gale.

Quill and Scroll

Red Cross

The American Red Cross is one of John Marshall's outstanding organizations. One of the major projects of the year was the filling of Christmas boxes for foreign needy, a concentrated membership drive and similar organization needs. In the picture above the JM group members are selling candy in the hall as a part of a project. Mrs. Janet Pharr, English teacher, has been sponsor of the group for 1955-56.

Left to right: Jerry McAdams, Bill Rustin, Walter Lambert, Bobby Dismukes, Kenneth Simmons, Jimmy Pierson, Terry McGrew, David Van-Nostrand, Leon Deihl, Stan Johnston, Mike Downs.

Traditionally, John Marshall presents each year a fine speech department. Much emphasis this year has gone into debate teams and groups. Results of these efforts have amply repaid the tireless work of the students under the capable leadership of Mr. Oliver C. Roberts. They have taken part in inter-city, inter-school and state competition. The picture shows an informal group around one of the debate tables in the classroom.

Adding to the efficiency of the John Marshall's program is a group of alert Hall Proctors who greet visitors to our building and check all students who may be in the halls. It is the ambition of the group to build up the dignity of our student government and carry out our tradition of good behavior.

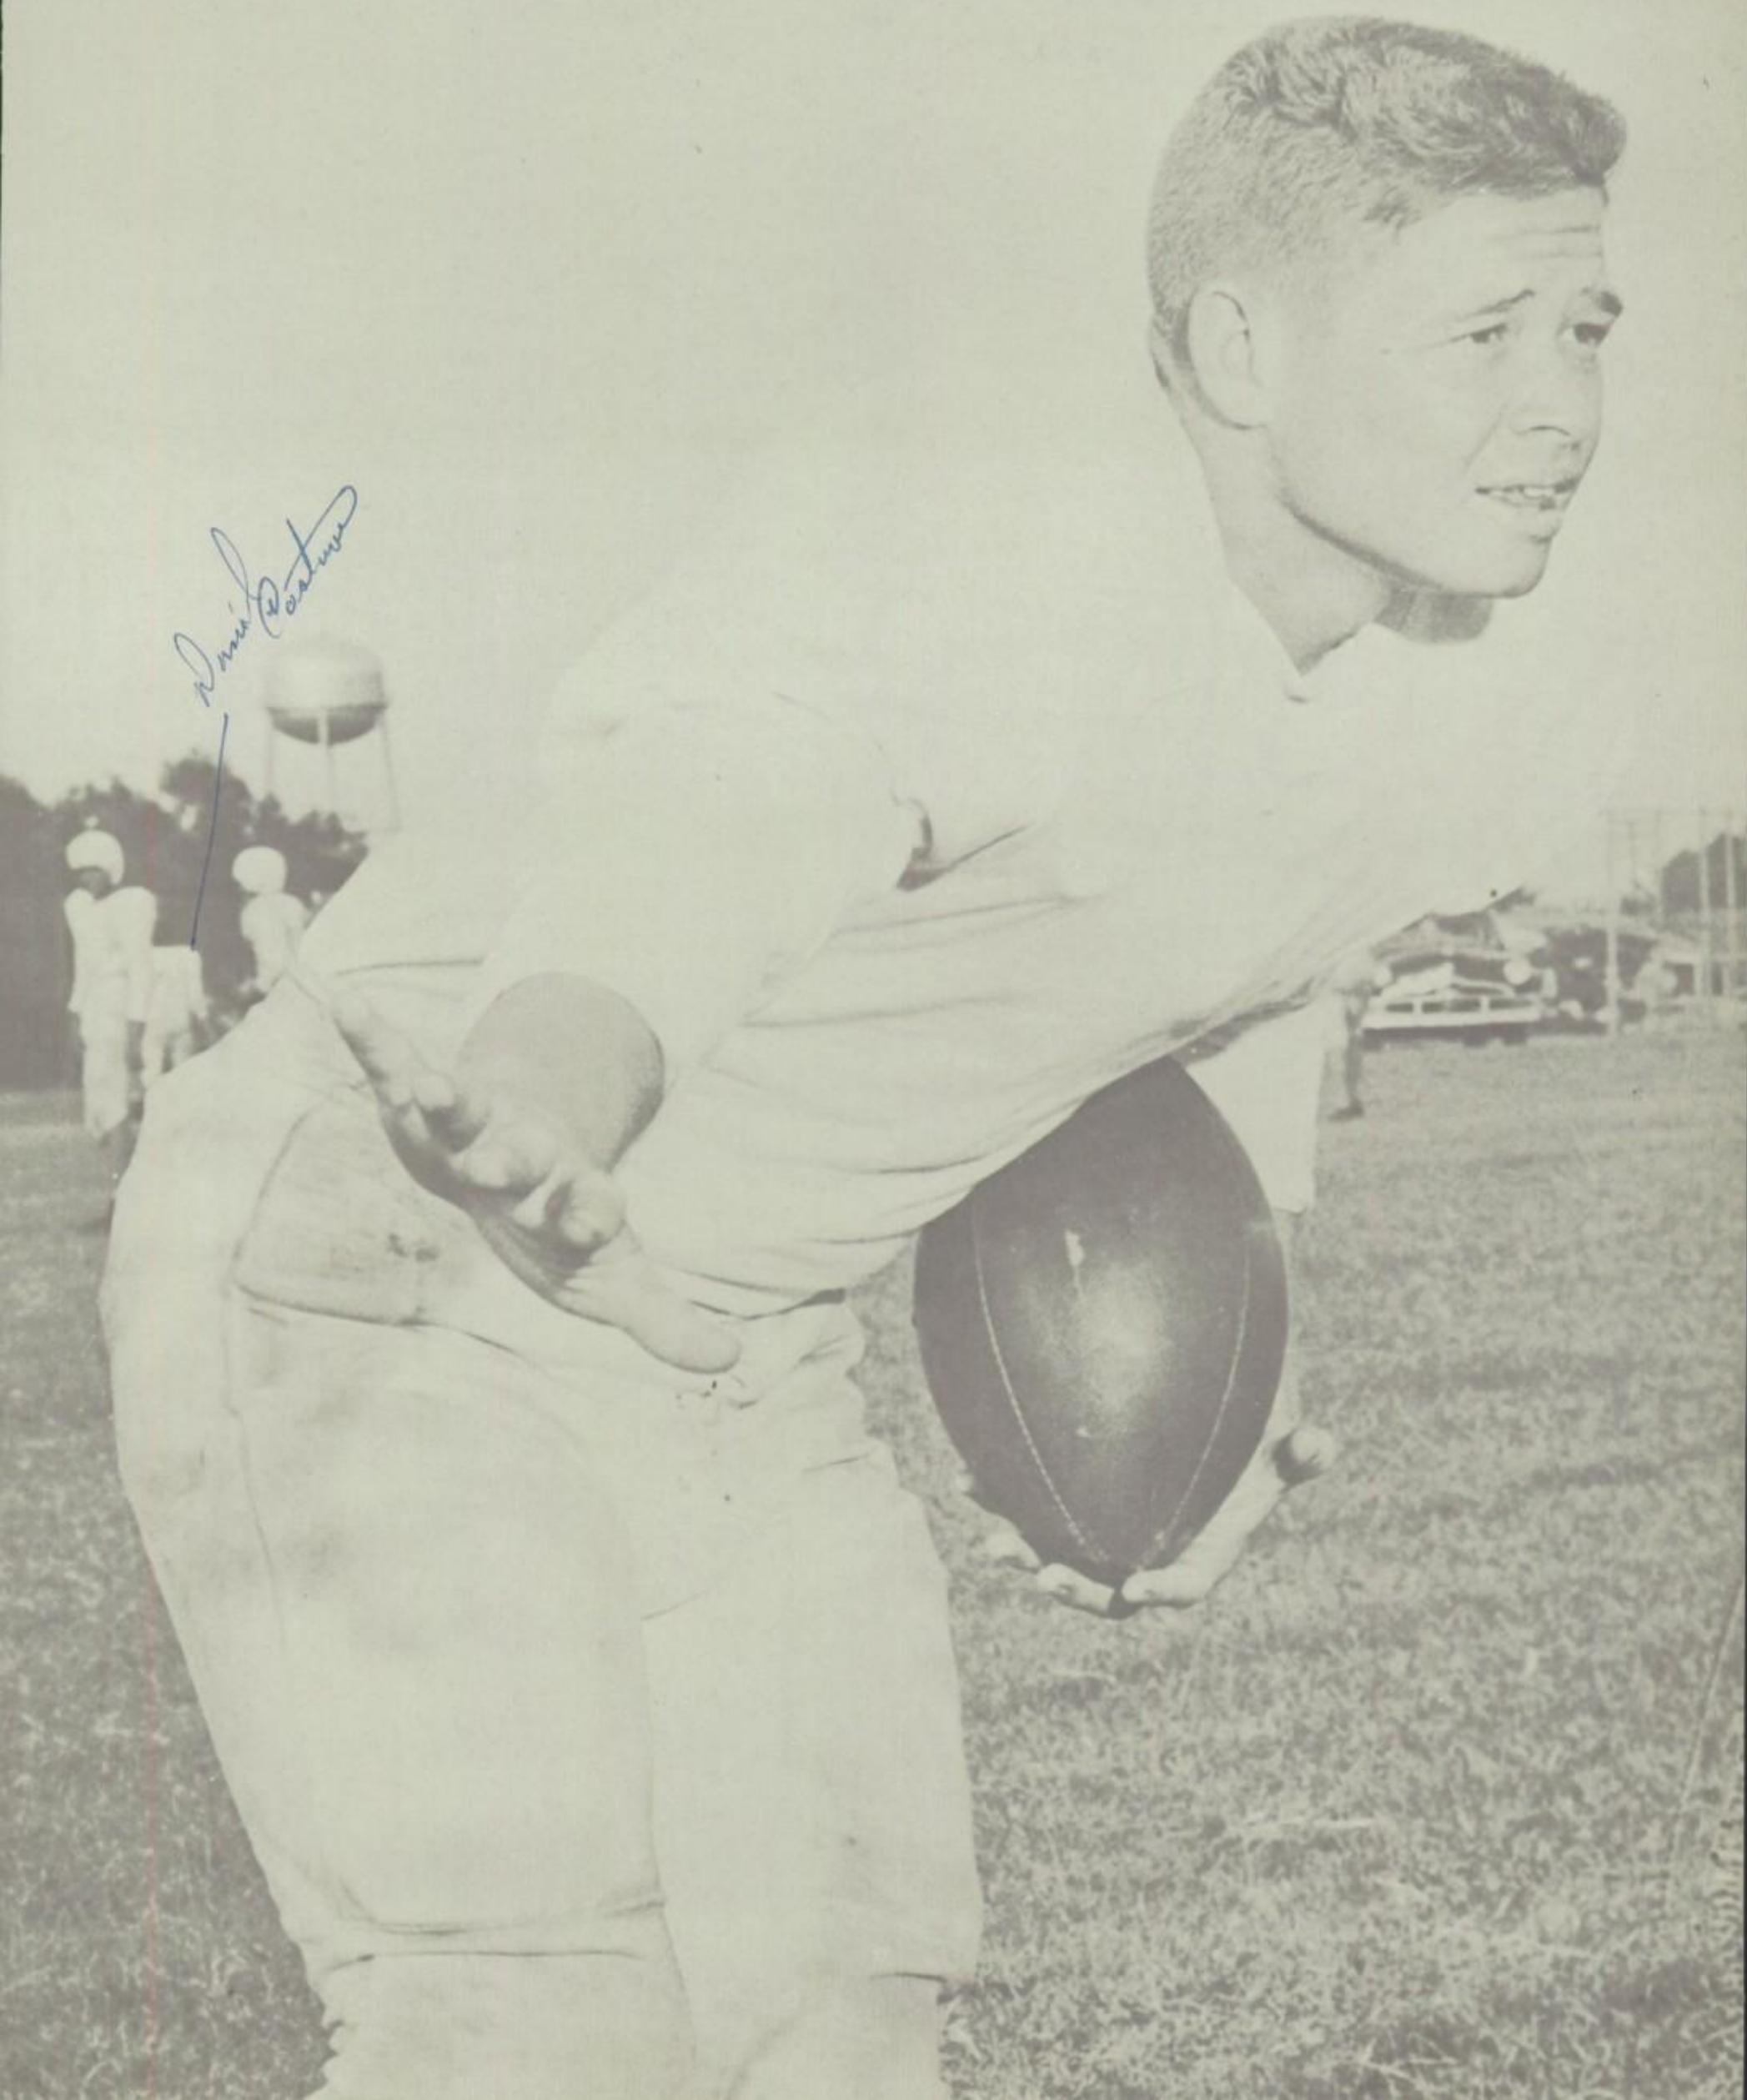

DRIVERS TRAINING

Unique among Oklahoma City Schools are John Marshall's Classes in Drivers Training. Under the capable tutoring of Dale Sallee students gain confident knowledge of the correct driving of cars as well as the regulations governing our highways and streets. The dual control training car for the school is furnished by the Pat Pugh Motor Company. Mr. Sallee's department is equipped with all the latest training equipment.

John Marshall's evergrowing student exchange program expanded to the far west and Cheyenne, Wyoming, this year. Fifteen Honor Society students made the trip to Cheyenne, and the Wyoming school participating for the first year in an exchange sent five of their students to John Marshall. John Marshall, internationally known for its exchange program has participated in the interstate exchange program since 1954 having made exchange trips to Greenville, Alabama; Baltimore, Maryland; Chicago, Illinois and has participated four years in the American Field Service Summer European Exchange Program. In the above picture Governor Gary presents to the honor students an Oklahoma flag to Gwyn Lacey, not pictured, Elsie Hurst, Claudine Franks, Wayne McClaren, Owen Elrod.

Who's the Happiest . . .
Who Is the Best . . .

We didn't always win the game
We sometimes didn't make the grade

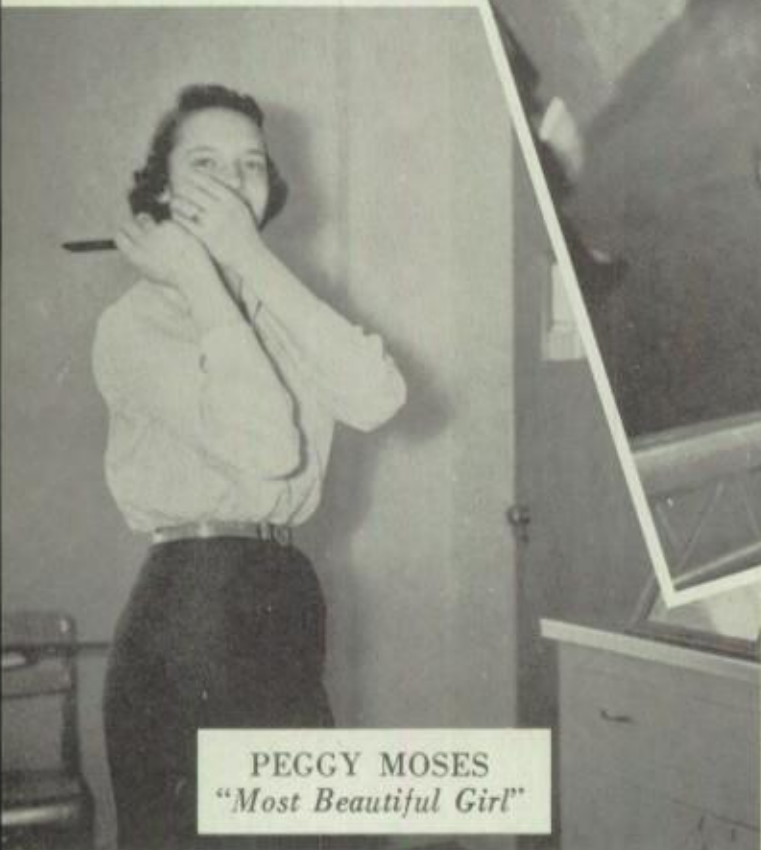

We were happy just to know that we were all part of our fine school and making friends for years to come . . .

“Whichever way the wind did blow
Some heart was glad to have it so

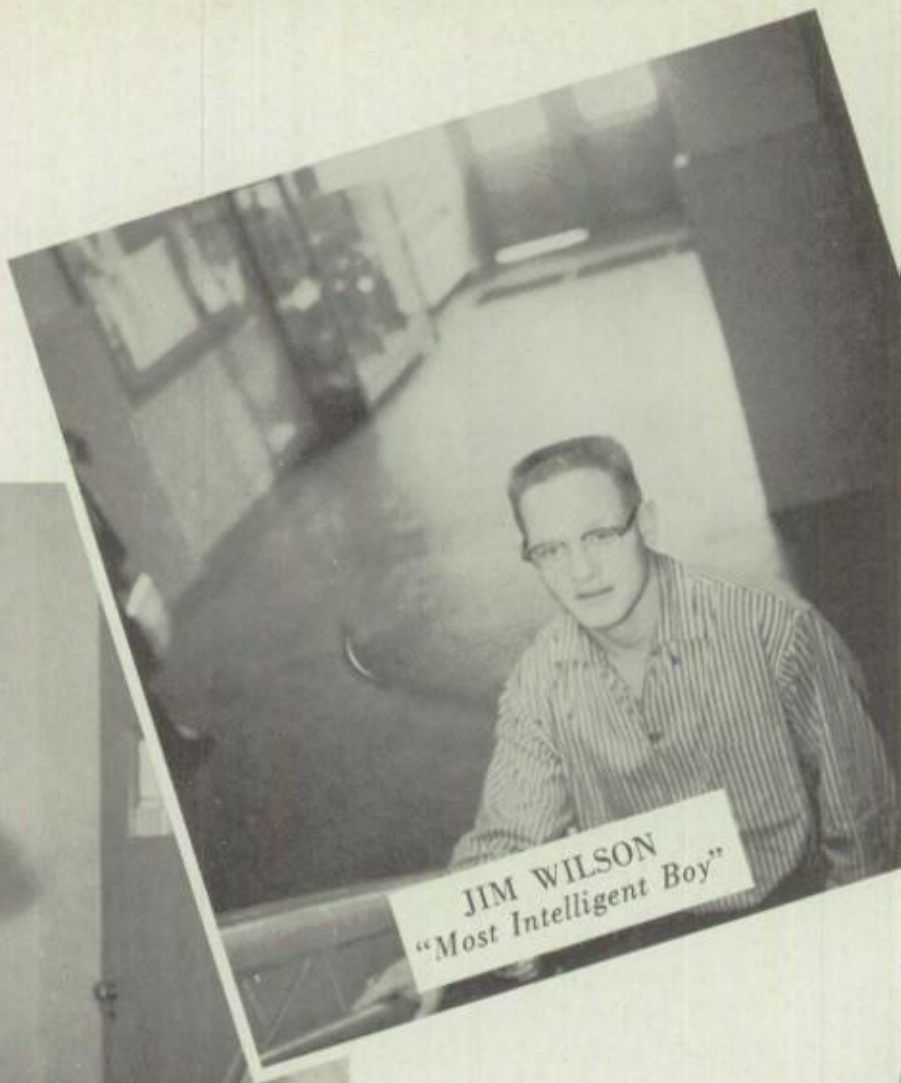

For blow it east
or blow it west

For one of us it blows the best!”

This is the end of our Annual
Our work as a staff is done
We've done our best
To stand the test
and please you every one . . .

Maybe we can go
and take our steadies to the Jr. Sr prom next year. Had a lot of fun
knowing you this year
and hope we're friends
next year. Good Luck,

Virginia
To put it short and sweet, I have loved knowing you. See you in
Don Alexander L. 57

Now the '56 Bear Tracks is added
To John Marshall's trail of fame
Each staff member feels it an honor . . .
. . . and proudly signs his name!

Virginia

To a very sweet girl with a wonderful personality who every one loves. Good luck. Your friend

To my one and only Jenny

Since I have known you, you have changed my life a lot. There has never been anyone as sweet, kind, & more fun to be with. I thought of being without you will never occur to me, we may be separated, but never for long. I will always be by your side as long as you want me, and need me. Never have I found a person as sweet as you are, you are one in a million and I believe God sent you to me. You have given me a purpose and aim in life. I look forward to the future with you which shall be and will be the happiest of my life, because I love you. The next two or three years are going to be impatient years for me. There are two things I admire in a person, that is unselfishness and generosity, Darling, you have both. I have yet to find a fault with (I haven't looked very hard tho) you. I admire, respect, and most of all love every thing about you. I consider myself very, very lucky to find a good Christian girl like you.

No one I have ever met, boy, girl, man, or woman has done so much to alter or enrichen my life than you have. No one has ever meant so much to me. I guess that's what love is, and the way He intended it to be. Even though it has been a short six months since I have known you, I feel that we have known each other for a life-time. "For every man there is a woman, for every woman there is a man". We were meant for each other. I told you once before I would know when I would fall in love. I know I was in love with you the very first date we had, although it has taken time to find out. I realize now that we will never truly be apart. I Love You

Always & Forever
my Dearest

Fannie

In a class
I hope we will have so much fun
in sports class next year as we have had
this past year.

Virginia, you are so very sweet girl.
and I hope you will be a very sweet girl. I have enjoyed knowing you very much.
I wish I could be your friend
